

Additional Education Options Now Available for California Real Estate Agents

Online Real Estate School Announces New California Continuing Education Courses

St.Louis, MO – California Real Estate Professionals can now complete all 45 hours of continuing education online through RealEstateExpress.com. The American School of Real Estate Express, LLC has announced that they have added 13 new California Continuing Education courses designed specifically for real estate agents.

Regardless if this is an agent's first license renewal or if they have years of experience, RealEstateExpress.com offers brand new courses fulfilling the California Bureau of Real Estate's requirements. The school's CE courses are offered exclusively online to adapt to a busy real estate agent's lifestyle with students able to access the material 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

These courses were written to enhance the careers of real estate professionals, brokers and sales agents. Registration is structured so an agent can take the full 45 credit-hours or enroll in individual courses to complete the requirement. Courses are written to the BRE specifications, including unit quizzes and two attempts at each final exam. Agents renewing for the second or subsequent times have the option to take 5 Mandatory 3-credit hour courses or one 8-hour Combined Survey course to best fit their educational needs.

With new educational opportunities, The American School of Real Estate Express is becoming a leading education provider for real estate courses. By preparing real estate agents with 135-hours of California pre-licensing and now 45-hours of continuing education, the school's students have the foundation to grow into real estate industry leaders. American School of Real Estate Express, LLC is an approved provider of California Continuing Education Courses, BRE sponsor number 5097.

About American School of Real Estate Express, LLC

The American School of Real Estate Express is one of the nation's oldest 100% online real estate license schools, established in 1996. Thanks to visionary decisions in a few early adopting states like Missouri and Georgia, a few jurisdictions began to write legislation to allow students to take their real estate license training courses online. Today, RealEstateExpress.com is approved to deliver 100% internet-based training and/or exam prep in almost all major states. Our courses have expanded to include; real estate pre licensing, post licensing, broker, and continuing education, as well as Exam Prep systems.

The American School of Real Estate Express has successfully trained over 500,000 real estate students from all over the country via the internet. Real Estate Express students have a consistently high success rate passing the state exam (based on information in states that provide pass rates, which means better, accurate course content, delivered in the method students prefer, for less money. Students who graduate from the American School of Real Estate Express can take advantage of specialist designations that are widely recognized as invaluable marketing tools fully embraced and preferred by consumers.