Find It, Act on It!

Eureka! Search Application Delivery Platform

A single platform that enables your company to provide self-servicing configurable search applications coexisting with on premises, hybrid and cloud-based service offerings

One platform to provision and manage of all of your search apps

Since no single turnkey solution will meet all your current and future search requirements, Eureka! was developed from the ground up as a platform to capture all the commonalities of what a search app is and allow for the easy customization of what your search app specifically needs.

Search across multiple sources in a unified view

Provides the ability to maintain both a cloud Platform as a Service (PaaS) and non-cloud search environment, giving a seamless end user search experience regardless of physical location of searchable content.
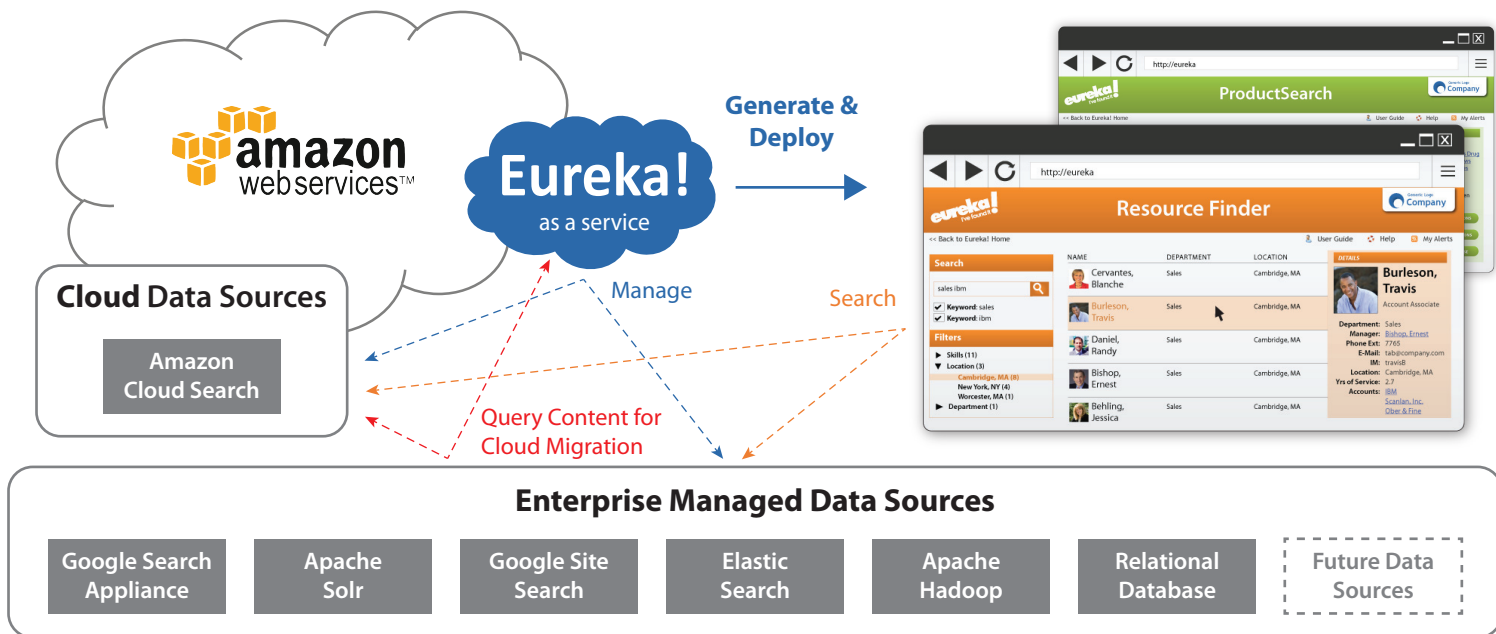

Create business specific search applications

Eureka! integrates with your corporate branding and user interface standards to create a consistent look and feel that meets the business requirements and maximizes the end user search experience.

Why Eureka! ?

- As a PaaS, immediately use Eureka! without the delays and issues that typically accompany an enterprise installation

- Self-servicing, configurable user interface - no need for software development

- Quickly standup search apps with out-of-the-box features

- Provides transparency to end users during content migration from internal data sources to the cloud
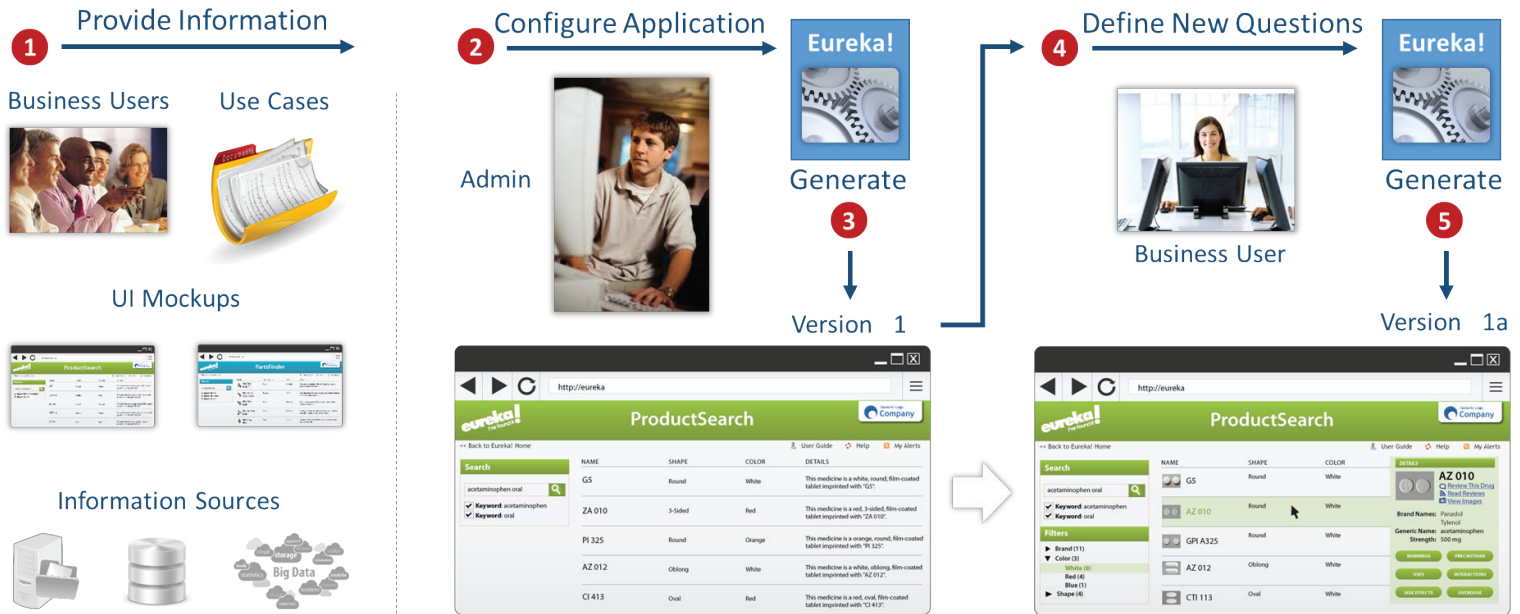

Maintain Both a Cloud and Non-Cloud Search Environment

Provides a seamless end user search experience driving user adoption of the cloud as an extension of corporate infrastructure
