

Pick Your Price Adoptions at the SPCA of Brevard

Throughout the entire month of September, you can pick your own adoption fee for any pet.

Titusville, Florida (August 29, 2014) – The SPCA of Brevard is bursting at the seams, so it invites the community to adopt any pet and pick the adoption fee too, during the month of September. “That’s right,” states SPCA Adoption Coordinator, Debra Cantwell, “you can pick any age or size pet from any of our locations, and pay any price you’d like to adopt that pet.” There are over 120 animals that are available for adoption right now through the organization. “We want to see all these dogs and cats in loving homes where they belong, that way we can save even more homeless pets in our community.”

The Pick Your Price adoption promotion applies at all SPCA of Brevard locations, including its new adoption center at 6035 Sisson Road in Titusville, both cat adoption centers at the Melbourne and Merritt Square Malls and any off-site adoption events during the month of September. For the first time ever, pets of any age, including puppies and kittens, are eligible for this promotion for one month only.

All animals adopted from the SPCA have been spayed or neutered ($25-$90 value), are up-to-date on required vaccines ($30 - $50 value), have been de-wormed ($9 and up value) and have been tested for feline leukemia/AIDS or tested for heart worms ($25 value each). They have also been micro-chipped ($10 value) and receive a free wellness exam certificate at the SPCA Clinic ($30 value). Plus, any dog adopted in Brevard is also eligible to receive one free training session, courtesy of Brevard Dog Training by Paws for Veterans, Inc. All this can add up to a value of over $200. Knowing that you are giving a homeless pet a family to love, however, is priceless!
