treatment center

destination recovery

“Our goal was to create the treatment center experience we ourselves would want for our own loved one.”

Dr. Jeffrey Huttman, CEO & Licensed Clinical Psychologist

A Recovery Experience Unlike Any Other You've Seen

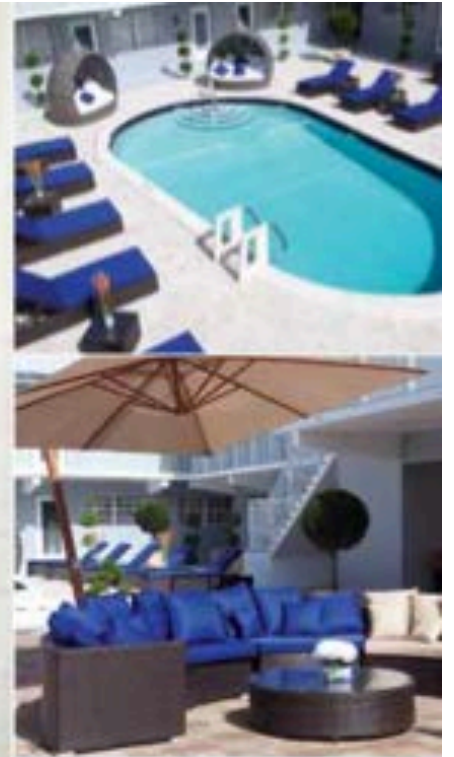

Having held clinical and senior management positions at several leading drug and alcohol treatment centers, the Founders of Evolutions Treatment Center saw not only an opportunity to provide a more evolved and effective treatment approach but also an opportunity to essentially redefine what addiction treatment could be. They saw these opportunities in three distinct areas; clinical expertise, innovative technology and the recovery environment itself.

Today, Evolutions Treatment Center offers treatment programs for drug and alcohol addiction designed by experienced physicians and clinical professionals. Evolutions takes clinically proven, evidence-based therapeutic techniques for combating addiction and fuses them with advanced technological treatment approaches being pioneered by the best and brightest minds in addiction treatment today. But our uniqueness doesn't end there.

Setting Evolutions apart from the vast sea of rehab centers in Florida and beyond – in addition to our innovative treatment programs – is the unmatched luxury in which our Clients recover, as well as the range of holistic approaches offered that are designed to nourish the mind, body and spirit. There's nothing quite like the realized vision that is Evolutions. The center truly is an Evolution in addiction treatment and one that is as innovative as it is effective.

at Evolutions saved my life
– and saved my family"

We Offer a Wide Range of Treatment Options and Approaches

Our primary addiction treatment program revolves around a 30-day inpatient stay at our center. We also offer extended stay options and outpatient aftercare treatment for Clients who may benefit from additional care. Daily program activities consist of a combination of therapeutic approaches that include one-on-one and group therapy, where participants are free to share issues, challenges and advice in a safe, supportive environment. And while Evolutions is not a 12-Step-centric program, we are supportive of the 12 Steps and encourage Clients to leverage the benefits that the approach can offer.

The Evolutions clinical team tailors an individualized treatment plan to each unique Client. There is no need to "fit" with our approach to recovery. We will fit our innovative approach to each Client's unique needs and condition.

Along with the best treatment that our combination of technology and medicine have to offer, we make available a range of interesting and fulfilling holistic activities where clients can find peace and serenity in their day-to-day treatment, and take what they learn back with them to enrich their new sober lives.

And of course, there is the luxurious living accommodations that we are becoming known for. We consider our focus on patient care to be unparalleled and are proud to offer the kind of top-level treatment we would want our own loved ones to receive. This is at the core of what we believe.

"I had given up hope. And then I found this wonderful place to get well."

A Technologically Advanced Approach to Addiction Treatment

Evolutions Treatment blends traditional therapeutic approaches with advanced, cutting-edge techniques that include repetitive Transcranial Magnetic Stimulation (rTMS) as well as evaluations and treatment of sleep disorders. As part of the development and implementation of an Individualized Treatment Plan for each Client at Evolutions, we quickly determine whether the Client is suffering from a sleep disorder and quickly work to effectively treat it. By identifying, treating and eliminating sleep issues, we effectively remove a potential and known roadblock to a lasting recovery.

rTMS is at the scientific forefront of addiction rehabilitation as it addresses the treatment of co-occurring mental health conditions. This technology, developed at Harvard University, gently stimulates the area of the brain that produces serotonin, our body's natural mood enhancer. In the case of someone suffering from depression and addiction, he or she is typically producing low amounts of serotonin and unconsciously attempting to create positive stimulation through the use or abuse of substances. Stimulating the brain to naturally create more serotonin can lead to balancing a Client's mood, which aids in treating addiction while treating the co-occurring disorder.

We are on a mission to change the way the world thinks about treating addiction.
