Ebola survivor Dr. Kent Brantly and his wife, Amber, will share their story of faith and hope at a special event Friday, Oct. 10, during Abilene Christian University's Homecoming. Kent is the ACU graduate who contracted Ebola while working as a medical missionary in Liberia. As a community, we have followed closely and prayed fervently as Kent fought to survive the deadly virus that nearly took his life. The couple will talk about Kent's close call with Ebola and how their lives have been impacted since his amazing recovery. Join the Brantlys at 4 p.m. in Moody Coliseum. Admission is free.
