Common Policy Library (CPL)™ - Unified Policy Compliance

What is the Common Policy Library (CPL)?

The CPL is a comprehensive library of information security and data privacy policies that is continually updated and mapped to key information security regulations and frameworks including ISO 27002, HIPAA, NIST and PCI-DSS.   The CPL is designed to allow organizations to quickly define and demonstrate due-diligence in their information security posture.

The CPL is designed to promote a "unified" approach to policy development. Rather than focusing compliance on a single framework such as PCI-DSS or HIPAA, organizations can develop a single set of robust information security policies that enable them to comply with multiple regulatory requirements.

CPL Topics Span Multiple Security and Privacy Frameworks

CPL Information Security Policy Updates

The information security field continues to evolve, with new regulatory requirements, new technologies and new threats. The Common Policy Library (CPL) is updated by our team of information security experts to make sure you have the latest written controls in place.
