Cory Kent Joins Adolfson & Peterson's Texas Office

(Richardson, Texas) November 6, 2014 – Cory Kent has joined Adolfson & Peterson Construction (A&P) as Director of Business Development. During his 20 year career, Cory has served in a variety of management positions with leading construction companies throughout Texas.

“Cory’s extensive knowledge of the Texas construction market and his thorough understanding of MEP systems will serve as a great asset to A&P,” said Corbett Nichter, Senior Vice President of Adolfson & Peterson Construction. “We are thrilled that Cory has decided to join A&P, further strengthening our team.”

Cory comes highly recommended by peers and clients as someone who has the industry experience, technical know-how and leadership skills to successfully manage client relations and execute winning projects. Cory has worked throughout the commercial sector in the energy, retail, healthcare, and mission critical markets in a variety of roles, including project manager, MEP manager and sales manager.

Cory is a native Texan and holds a bachelor’s degree in Marketing from Texas Tech University.
