

Oktoprod Partners with Capy as a Sales Agent in France.

Delaware, USA – Nov. 11, 2014 – Capy, provider of an innovative, fun, user-friendly and extremely secure new CAPTCHA technology, announced today that Oktoprod, a digital publisher specializing in French manga, will act as Capy’s sales agent in France. Oktoprod and Capy will jointly sell Capy CAPTCHA and other security solutions, including the latest Risk-Based Authentication software, to French web service providers.

Oktoprod (www.oktoprod.com) is a platform where designers can submit their illustrations and tell their stories, while constantly exchanging ideas and opinions with readers and subscribers.

"We deployed Capy CAPTCHA solution last year, and we have been using it to protect our customers from spam user registrations in France" said Mathieu Corona, Co-Founder at Oktoprod. "Capy’s solution has been very effective and reliable, and we would like to introduce Capy CAPTCHA to our friends and customers. We see many potential joint sales opportunities in France, and our phones have been ringing off the hook".

"Capy is thrilled to have Oktoprod as our first sales agent in France" said Dr. Mitsuo Okada, CEO at Capy. "We are confident that the partnership with Oktoprod will have a huge impact on increasing our customer base in European Union"
