participants, visibility of where bottlenecks in business processes lie, realization of discounts—when available—for prompt processing, and accountability and compliance through standardized processing and a detailed audit trail. This, along with its built-in collaboration features, drag-and-drop graphical workflow designer, and intuitive user interface, makes CoreIntegrator Workflow an obvious choice when automating tasks such as invoice approval, travel and expense reimbursements, insurance claim approval, purchase order matching, employee onboarding, grant submission, and contract review—to name a few.

Version 3.5 introduces new features such as globalization and localization; document versioning; document retention policies; inline editing of documents; multiple time zone support; bulk exporting of documents; searching of attached documents; and much more.
