OceanWorks International To Exhibit At Subsea Tieback March 3rd to 5th

OceanWorks International is exhibiting at the Subsea Tieback Forum & Exhibition in New Orleans, Louisiana at the Ernest N. Morial Convention Center from March 3rd to 5th. Over 3,000 attendees and more than 225 exhibitors are expected to participate in this year's show. The conference is the premier platform for a growing sector of the oil and gas industry and offers companies such as OceanWorks International the opportunity to meet and exchange information with key industry leaders and experts.

OceanWorks International is a regular exhibitor at this conference and considers it a great opportunity to interact with our customers and to establish new relationships for the future. Several members of the OceanWorks International team will be available at our booth (900) throughout the 3 days of the event.

OceanWorks International is an internationally recognized subsea technology company specializing in the design and manufacture of specialized equipment for oil and gas, manned / unmanned subsea systems and, military, scientific, and other marine markets.
