

Salt Lake City, Utah, April 1, 2015 – Super Top Secret (STS) is excited to release a new brand highlight reel and announce the addition of Jason Kimball and Dave Trevino as partners in STS Studios; Super Top Secret's in-house, full-service film and production division. To further focus on our client's needs we have revamped our Studios space on the storied and historic Studio Row in downtown Salt Lake City, a mere block away from STS HQ.

Jason brings with him 15+ years of creative and strategic brand leadership as well as reels of film and content production experience for national and global top tier brands and award-winning products. He is a seasoned and talented storyteller that knows how to engage consumers and reshape, redefine and position brands.

Dave is an accomplished Director of Photography and editor who for the last two decades has been behind the lens creating content for the likes of NBC Sports, Red Bull, Burton Snowboards, Mtn. Dew, Skullcandy and many more. Dave has an impeccable eye, a relentless work ethic and always gets it done.

The Studios crew has been charging hard the past month on location in Hawaii for Peiligroso Tequila, back to Utah filming pieces for Skullcandy and working on brand and product edits for Rodeo Austin, HTC and Red Bull. Keeping busy on the ground and in the clouds with our aerial cinematography capabilities and roster of new cameras and equipment.

About Super Top Secret - STS is an independently owned, hyper creative agency located in Salt Lake City, UT. We are innovators that know just what it takes to engage consumers across every medium. We build authentic brands and experiences and are the best at making them unique and relevant to the mainstream culture, while staying true to their core. STS proudly partners with hard-charging local, national and international clients like Oakley, Ubisoft, Diageo, Nike, Rossignol, Skullcandy, the University of Oregon, and many more. hello@wearetopsecret.com | 801.906.0256 | wearetopsecret.com