Nashville Business Journal Recognizes Entrada as 2015 Best Places to Work

ENTRADA HONORED AS BEST PLACES TO WORK FOR 2015 BY NASHVILLE BUSINESS JOURNAL

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 28th, 2015 - Entrada has been named to the Nashville Business Journal's Best Places to Work for 2015, a recognition that honors workplaces in Nashville. Employees of the nominated companies were measured across 10 key engagement categories, including team effectiveness, trust in senior leaders and manager performance. This is the second year Entrada has been named as a Best Places to Work by the Nashville Business Journal.

"We are honored to be named as a Best Places to Work for 2015 by the Nashville Business Journal," noted Rebecca Clements, Vice President of Client Services at Entrada. "When employees truly care about their company, nurture its culture and rise to the challenging work, great things can happen. They are happening at Entrada."

At Entrada, team members are encouraged to share their ideas, enhance processes and structure, and given autonomy to manage their own projects. Entrada believes in transparency, whether it's individually, departmentally or from the executive management level. On a daily basis, members have access to collaborate, brainstorm and gain knowledge from the executive team.

Entrada's company culture is one of a 'work hard, play hard' attitude. The team members hold its core values and principles close as they strive daily to meet and exceed their own personal, departmental and overall company-wide goals. Successes and achievements are celebrated and light-hearted, friendly competitions are encouraged. The team truly enjoys each other's company - both inside and outside of the office. Entrada employees enjoy having fun together in many different capacities, including: company-wide competitions, departmental videos, playing games, happy hours and other similar activities.

The Nashville Business Journal recognized the honorees at an awards luncheon on April 17th at the Hutton Hotel. To view the list the Nashville Business Journal's Best Places to Work for 2015, click here.
