She stepped off a bus from Washington with $200 in her pocket, a duffle bag full of clothes and the desire to “be a dope grower.” Now thirty years later, Kelly Bond is a full-fledged member of the tribe, a true veteran of the trade.

This book encompasses the entire harvesting and clipping experience. From the three types of clipping jobs, a description of the different work environments, the cast of characters you will encounter and the clipper’s “to go” kit with a list of the essential tools you will need for every job. Plus it includes a “how to” on the best and fastest clipping tricks and technique.
