

The Creation Difference: Premier Customer Relationships

Since 1991, Creation Technologies has focused on building premier customer relationships with companies who require high-mix, high-complexity complete manufacturing solutions. We understand the demands and risks associated with manufacturing in this market and have built our company to provide the exact services required to be your EMS provider of choice in our areas of expertise.

At Creation Technologies, we believe that it is impossible to be all things to all people...but that it is entirely possible to be all things to some people. The key is in understanding each individual customer's definition of value, and translating that understanding into results which exceed those expectations.

The Creation Difference: Design & Manufacturing Excellence

From comprehensive design, production and testing capabilities to our fully integrated supply chain and post-manufacturing service support, Creation sets the industry standard for manufacturing excellence—and for lean, highly efficient operations.

Our culture of excellence has attracted leading talent, working together as part of multi-disciplinary, Customer-Focused Teams. Professionals from design engineering, engineering, operations management, supply chain, test, quality assurance and production provide end-to-end value excellence—providing partial or full integration services depending on your needs.

Our customers depend on us for the realization of their ideas. Through collaborative problem-solving we create unique, start-to-finish solutions to bring products to market on time, on budget and with exceptional quality.
