SELLERS DORSEY ANNOUNCES THE SPONSORSHIP OF THE 2015 HCBS CONFERENCE

PHILADELPHIA, PA – Sellers Dorsey is pleased to announce its sponsorship of the 2015 National Home and Community Based Services (HCBS) Conference being held August 31 through September 3 in Washington, DC. The annual event, hosted by the National Association of States United for Aging and Disabilities, highlights state achievements in providing long term services and supports in a home and community based setting while facing the challenges including reduced budgets and growing populations. The event provides an opportunity for local, state, and federal policymakers and key stakeholders to cultivate unique partnerships, share best practices and recognize the work of their peers.

Sellers Dorsey Senior Consultant Pam Coleman will be sharing her perspective at the conference. The presentation, Everything You Wanted to Know about Managed Long Term Services and Supports but Were Afraid to Ask, will give insight into the challenges and opportunities that Managed Long Term Services and Supports provide to HCBS Providers. Ms. Coleman is a former Texas state Medicaid official with an expertise in Medicaid integrated managed care including the implementation of programs for complex populations with needs for home and community based services. Pam is a frequent presenter at national conferences on complex care populations and integrated delivery systems. Marc Gold, a senior consultant from Sellers Dorsey, will also be attending this year's conference. Mr. Gold has nearly three decades of experience in directing long term services and supports policy. Most recently, Marc was an executive with the Texas Department of Aging and Disability Services as the special advisor on policy and leading Texas's Olmstead efforts.
