Elliott Homes LLC Named Professional Builder Design Award Winner

September 1, 2015 (Arlington Heights, IL) – Elliott Homes LLC in Gulfport, Mississippi has been named a winner in the Professional Builder Design Awards contest, which recognizes the nation's top home-building projects for their design excellence, sales and marketing success, and construction quality.

Sponsored by Professional Builder magazine, the PB Design Awards honors projects across eleven categories: single-family homes, multi-family homes, one-of-a-kind custom homes, "on the boards" projects, communities, systems built/modular, green, best revised plan and urban infill. Elliott Homes LLC won a Silver Award in the one-of-a-kind custom homes category.

The winners were selected by a panel of esteemed residential design experts that included Larry W. Garnett, FAIBD, principal of Larry Garnett Designs, Glen Rose, Texas; Jacob Goldberg, President of Goldberg General Contracting, Chicago, Ill.; and Todd Hallett, President of TK Design & Associates, South Lyon, Mich.

"It is a huge honor to win this national award and I couldn't be more proud of my staff. This wouldn't be possible without their hard work, dedication and commitment to building beautiful, high-quality homes. Their passion for building each home better than the last is amazing and this award proves that their extraordinary efforts did not go unnoticed. Thank you to the Professional Builder judges and to the best construction and design team on the Mississippi Coast," says Brandon Elliott, President.

The PB Design Award winners will be featured in the September 2015 issue of Professional Builder, as well as online at www.probuilder.com.
