This season's program features 9 U.S. Olympians and multiple World Cup medalists

KEARNS, Utah – US Speedskating has announced the 2015-16 National Training Program, consisting of nine Olympians. The talented group of 30 athletes is headlined by three-time World Champion Brittany Bowe (Ocala, Fla.) and three-time Olympic Medalist J.R. Celski (Federal Way, Wash.).

The National Team Program is an elite group of 30 female and male athletes who were selected to the team based on performance standards from the 2014-15 season.

Fellow Olympians Jonathan Garcia (Houston, Texas), Joey Mantia (Ocala, Fla.), Sugar Todd (Omaha, Neb.), Mitch Whitmore (Waukesha, Wisc.) and Kelly Gunther (Clinton Township, Mich.) join Bowe on the Long Track National Team, along with a deep roster of internationally experienced skaters.

“We have a team of experienced winners and a lot of talent that we believe will contribute to the success of our program over the next several years,” said Nick Pearson, Long Track Program Director. “Our national team is in a really good place right now and we look to continue to build upon that as well as our depth in the development pipeline.”

Joining Celski on the Short Track National Team will be 2014 Olympic teammates Chris Creveling (Kitneysville, Pa.) and Jessica Smith (Melvindale, Mich.). In addition, returning to the National Team Program this year are Lexi Burkholder (Pittsburgh, Pa.), Adam Callister (Salt Lake City, Utah), Casey Mullarkey (Cleveland, Ohio) and Katy Ralston (Saratoga Springs, N.Y.), along with 2015 World Championship Team members Keith Carroll Jr. (Honey Brook, Pa.), Kimi Goetz (Flemington, N.J.) and Ryan Pivrotto (Ann Arbor, Mich.).

“We have a great mix of successful veterans along with some really exciting young talent,” Short Track National Head Coach Jon Cavar said. “We look forward to watching these athletes grow together and learn from one another as we build towards the PyeongChang 2018 Winter Olympic Games.”
