Anthem's FNTSY Sports Network and Fight Network Launch on Buckeye CableSystem in the U.S.

Toronto – Anthem Sports & Entertainment Corp. announced today that Fantasy Sports Network (FNTSY), the world's first and only channel dedicated to fantasy sports, and Fight Network, the world's premier combat sports television channel, have launched on Buckeye CableSystem in the U.S., making the channels available to subscribers in northwest Ohio and southeast Michigan.

Both channels will be available in high-definition (HD) on HD Plus Pak, channels 696 and 703, respectively.

FNTSY Sports Network is the world's first and only 24/7 television network designed from the ground up to inform, engage and entertain the more than 57 million enthusiasts who play fantasy sports annually and on a daily basis. The destination channel for fantasy sports players, its programming includes exciting live studio programming, call-in shows, expert panels, celebrity and expert drafts, reality programming and on-site commentary from sports venues, as well as short-form programming from the experts around the continent, providing fantasy sports discussion and analysis for football, baseball, basketball, soccer, golf, hockey, NASCAR and other sports.

Fight Network is a 24/7 television channel dedicated to complete coverage of combat sports. It airs programs focused on the entire scope of the combat sports genre, including mixed martial arts, boxing, kickboxing, professional wrestling, traditional martial arts, fight news and analysis, as well as fight-themed drama, reality series, documentaries and feature films. Fight Network's dynamic programming lineup includes live events from around the world and extensive news coverage. Fight Network is already available in the U.S., Canada and over 30 countries across Europe, Africa and the Middle East.

“Anthem’s expansion continues with new distribution on the Ohio-based Buckeye CableSystem,” said Leonard Asper, CEO of Anthem Sports & Entertainment Corp. “Fight Network is exactly what combat sports fans have been waiting for, while the launch of FNTSY Sports Network coincides with the start of football season, so timing couldn’t be better for subscribers in the region.”

“Buckeye is pleased to add these two channels to our HD Plus Pak. Fantasy sports has become big business. We are pleased to offer our viewers a channel that will give them up to the minute information to help them manage their teams. In addition, combat sports continues to increase in popularity. These two channels will provide more value to our customers and uniquely serve their entertainment and information needs,” said Jeff Abbas, President and General Manager.

FNTSY Sports Network and Fight Network are owned by Anthem Sports & Entertainment Corp.
