at-home system

The Benefits of Conception Kit at-home System

Conceivex, Inc. offers a convenient and inexpensive at-home fertility treatment that is covered by many insurance plans.

Fertility Service Options

- There is an ever-growing array of fertility services available for those who are seeking reproductive services
- These services range from inexpensive over-the-counter ovulation kits to more costly medical procedures such as artificial insemination
- The Center for Disease Control (CDC) reports that there are 7.4 million women ages 15-44 who have ever used infertility services
- Determining which fertility service is right for you and your partner is an important first step for those with reproductive challenges

Where to begin?

- When it comes to selecting reproductive services, individuals and partners should consider where they want to begin
- Some men and women are anxious to seek medical testing so they can gain a more in-depth understanding of the factors that affect their fertility
- Other people are hesitant to spend so much time and money early on in the process and look for a private at-home kit
- Prior to selecting any reproductive service, couples should communicate their expectations, concerns, and desires with each other or a counselor to better determine which service(s) are best

The Conception Kit at-home system

- There are many benefits to using the Conception Kit[®] at-home system in comparison to other fertility treatments. Including:

- Encourages both partners to work together in the conception process
- Uses cervical cap insemination and timed ovulation to enhance the opportunity to conceive in the privacy of home
- Can be used prior to further analysis or treatment
- Is an inexpensive treatment alternative to other medical procedures
- Can be used in the initial 12 month period
