HAL- THE SILENT MUSICIAN

“HAL” is a short film created and directed by Actor Alexis Rhee Who Played the Character of Kim Lee in The Academy Award Winning Film Crash and a Returned Guest on ABC’s Newest Sitcom Dr. Ken

Alexis Rhee, speaker, professional violinist, director, and actor in movies like Academy Award Winning movie Crash, Norbit and a frequent guest on the new ABC's sitcom "Dr. Ken," announced that she has a new project/movie called HAL bringing Alzheimer's awareness to the screen.

An advocate for preserving the ARTS Alexis explains her project “Hal (EMILIO PALAME), a Jazz Pianist afflicted by Alzheimer's disease, meets Alice (Alexis Rhee), a Violinist, when she admits her mother to the same care facility. Through an exploration of music together, they form a bond that's as soulful and beautiful as the music they create. After a final performance together, will Hal remember Alice? This script was written to explore the possibility that we might lose our mind to the disease but not who we are, the soulful beings”.

Survived by her mother from complications of Alzheimer's, Alexis Rhee understands first-hand what is to lose someone to this dreadful disease. Alexis explains why this has become a passion “the subject matter is very close to my heart for a couple of reasons: I lost my mother to the disease 5 years ago. Also I have been a musician and an Actor for all my life. I have witnessed so many brilliant musicians get succumbed to the disease and silently pass away. Unfortunately the cure for Alzheimer's disease has not been found to this day.”

Alexis Rhee's short-film will be a feature film in the near future. Her short-film is in need of sponsors and donations and time is of the essence with 10 days left to raise funds. Alexis explains “I truly believe that we can literally move a mountain when we put our energy together. I have a strong faith in you and that you will help us to give these silent musicians a voice one more time by making this project a reality!”
