TouchSuite's Lightning Payments™ Launches ReCharge, an Advanced Recurring Billing Software Solution

—TouchSuite released ReCharge, designed to streamline subscription management and recurring billing.—

Boca Raton, FL (January 26, 2016)— Leading U.S. technology company, TouchSuite, has expanded the availability of its QuickBooks®-integrated processing solution, Lightning Payments, by offering ReCharge, a solution that makes invoice management and recurring billing simple.

ReCharge changes the way business owners look at their customers' billing process by providing helpful tools that offer detailed insights into customer behavior. A real-time dashboard and intuitive user-interface makes it easy to access information about revenue, signups and cancellations. ReCharge evaluates customers' billing history, thorough transaction information to uncover trends that will produce smarter business decisions. ReCharge also provides businesses the power to increase revenue and optimize conversions by testing different subscription plans and free trial pricing models.

"We understand there are a lot of challenges when it comes to managing subscriptions and invoices; therefore, we wanted to provide a software that was backed up by powerful functionality coupled with its ease of use," said CEO Sam Zietz. "Today's small business owner requires a solution that can provide insights about their business and ReCharge offers just that: a quick and highly secured subscription credit card system that even integrates into your existing QuickBooks Online software."

Some highlights include:

- Integration with QuickBooks Online Edition
- Increased on-time collections
- Flexible billing options
- Invoice customers in a secure platform
- Manage invoicing
- Receive payments safely
- Auto-bill subscribers

With ReCharge, you can get started quickly and start receiving payments from customers today!
