How Does Strato Work?

Strato resides on the SAP HANA Cloud Platform and uses oData integration and SAP SuccessFactors Ad hoc Query data calls to access data from sources like SAP SuccessFactors Employee Central and SAP SuccessFactors Recruiting. Strato leverages single sign-on to create a consistent, integrated experience for SAP SuccessFactors users. Upcoming releases will extend data integration to on-premise SAP ERP HCM data to make Strato the only solution that can produce documents with data from both on-premise SAP HCM and SAP SuccessFactors systems.

Innovative, Time-Saving Features

Strato delivers conditional formatting features that let you reuse the same content or section templates on multiple documents and even alter the output based on pre-determined logic. This means that you can change, hide or display data, text, logos or signatures based on logical conditions you set up. Reusable content and templates reduce document setup time and reduce the number of templates a user must review before running their document. The end result is faster, more accurate document output.

Extend the Reach of Your HCM Documents

Strato's documents can be accessed from mobile devices or from tiles that are embedded in your SAP SuccessFactors homepage. This allows all of your users to enjoy the same rich, consistent user experience.

Because Strato resides in the cloud, there is no hardware to purchase and no implementation project to worry about. Strato's subscription-based model also means there are no up-front fees.
