

Grounds For Play helps to create a realistic environment for dramatic play with New! Community Façades

CARROLLTON, GA - April 20, 2016 - Grounds For Play a division of Superior Recreational Products (SRP), that specializes in playground environments today introduced its newest Community Façade collection that includes three new façades.

With our new Community façade collection, customers can choose from an Outfitter, Market or Vet Clinic. The collection was designed for early childhood development environments. Children can let their imagination explore with these fun and educational dramatic play events.

Inspired and built with realistic replications and a traditional play finish, childhood learning and exploration has never been more fun. Children can fuel up on food and gas at our Market façade which is built with a play café and gas station. Feeling a little under the weather? A visit at our play Vet Clinic is just what the doctor ordered. Shopping has never been easier at our Outfitter and Market, as well.

“As we all need physical play to fight obesity, we also need dramatic play to strengthen our social skills. Façades help to give your play environment an identity that enhances play time as well as learning,” said Charles Jackson, Manager of Design Services.

If you're in search of durable, cost-friendly dramatic play events that are perfect for any play environment, our façades are the perfect fit for you! For more information on these products, contact sales@groundsforplay.com or visit us online at www.groundsforplay.com!
