Tom Zelif of Digiscribe New England Receives APSC Certification

Joining an Exclusive Group of Accredited Accounts Payable Solutions Consultants

Norwood, MA – May 3, 2016 – Digiscribe New England, provider of document scanning, management solutions and automation software, has announced that co-owner Tom Zelif has received an Accredited Payables Solutions Consultant (APSC) certification.

The Accounts Payable Network, a branch of the Institute of Finance and Management, offer this exclusive certificate program as a resource for executives, managers, supervisors and consultants.

It's a clear demonstration that the holder has a comprehensive understanding of the accounts payable process. It also displays a strong knowledge of non-process related strategies, how they can be used to enhance operations and ways to gain a deeper understanding of what customers need.

Through this accreditation, Mr. Zelif has been exposed to training in process controls, payment options, IT and tech issues, fraud and government regulations. The training emphasizes best practices that are essential for producing healthy partnerships and expert recommendations.

“The APSC certification shows our commitment to delivering value to our customers in the New England market. With this accreditation, we can help companies of all sizes improve the efficiency of their accounts payable processes and lower their costs,” says Mitch Taube, CEO Digiscribe New England, “We are proud of Tom’s achievement.”

Digiscribe New England is one of the few document management companies with an APSC in Boston, Greater New England, and Massachusetts. Tom Zelif’s new credentials, along with over 21 years of experience, make him a unique and invaluable extension of the Digiscribe team.
