

LEAP for Insurance Brokers

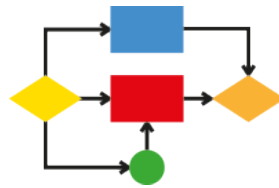

Automated, connected and zero-code

Improve productivity, compliance and speed to market. The LEAP digitisation platform enables you to innovate fast - without code.

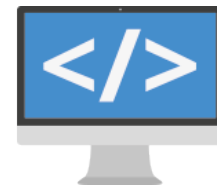

Productivity

Seamless flow of data and automation eliminates friction between broker, agent and underwriter.

Compliance

Rapidly implement new process workflows to meet upcoming legislation or simply get a new product to market.

Zero code

Remove the risk associated with custom code writing and drive customer-focused initiatives without involving IT.

Why we're different

At Flovate, we believe that brokers should be able to innovate fast without the risk. Our next generation architecture allows you to do just that. Need to update a workflow or document? Change how you calculate mid-term adjustments? Or capture information held in a separate database? Do it all, without having to rely on software developers.

How it works

Get in touch with us and we will create your perfect solution fast – in days and weeks, not months. Using your business requirements, we can quickly create your solution using pre-developed building blocks that cover your every possible need.
