Media Contact:
Amy Hesser
Hesser Communications Group
amy@hessercommunications.com
312-933-8324

Reclamere Launches MS360, Full Spectrum IT Equipment Provisioning, Retirement & Reporting Services

New Offering Meets Increasing Market Demand for Secure Deployment Solutions

TYRONE, PA (July 28, 2016) - Reclamere, the company that positions businesses to implement secure data processes in the workplace, and safely and securely dispose of their IT assets today announced the launch of MS360 - a new package of services that takes care of all of the essential steps necessary to safely and securely unpack and deploy new IT equipment across organizational workforces and retire machines being replaced.

"Reclamere's MS360 solution is our answer to a time intensive and security critical need in the marketplace that many businesses, and especially those in heavily regulated industries are finding themselves increasingly hard pressed to keep up with as IT staffs are cut while the need for provisioning updated computers and servers remains constant," said Joe Harford, Reclamere President & Co-founder. "By delivering an all in one secure and reliable solution for IT equipment warehousing, imaging and deployment Reclamere is prepared to meet this growing need."

Reclamere MS360 services also include;
- Data Destruction of retired equipment

- Data Retrieval
- Decryption
- Quick Deploy Return
- RMA Management for vendor replacement of defective new equipment
- Encryption
- Data Security Consulting
- Environmentally responsible disposal

Reporting options within MS360 include Data Device Tracking, a detailed listing of each machine imaged, including decommissioned internal hard drives. If applicable and available, it will also include the end user's name, site, the name of the image and the date of deployment. MS360's IR Provisioning Report details the serial numbers of all data-containing devices and their decommissioned hard drives.

Logistical options include equipment drop-off, management of third-party logistics, and the use of Reclamere's own trucking fleet and team.

 "Our MS360 offering is grounded in securing the client's data. The level of security, industry expertise, and cost-effectiveness Reclamere offers with MS360 is second to no competitor in the industry," added Harford.

About Reclamere
Reclamere, Inc. is a data security company that offers 360 degree data security and breach prevention, and a full range of data destruction services to its clients many of whom are in highly regulated sectors including healthcare and finance. Founded in 2001, Reclamere provides client-focused, environmentally compliant management solutions for end-of-life computer equipment and data destruction services. As an industry leader, Reclamere is known for its robust data security assessments, expert consulting capabilities, and proprietary data breach prevention processes. Reclamere guarantees protection of its clients' sensitive information against data breaches and data theft. Reclamere also works with clients on-site at their locations throughout the U.S. For more information, visit http://www.reclamere.com.