Superior Recreational Products Release Case Study on New Event Space at the University of West Georgia

CARROLLTON, GA - Superior Recreational Products (SRP), a leading manufacturer of recreational products, partnered with Korkat to create a new shaded collegiate event space at the University of West Georgia in Carrollton, Georgia.

The university was in need of a shaded space that was well suited for events and large gatherings. They also wanted a space that could be rented to different groups. The shade was installed in front of the university's Campus Center to prevent views from being obstructed.

Superior created a custom shade design that features a series of 5 hyperbolic sails, with speakers and lights integrated into the frame. The shade was installed during the Christmas Break to be utilized and ready for spring and summer.

"The end result was very rewarding as the customer saw their ideas for this space come to life with major satisfaction," said Faith Mallory, Korkat Sales Representative.

View our case study which takes you on our customer's journey of the process. We explore the customer's need and wants for the shade, selection process, and installation.
