Milgard Now Offers Moving Glass Wall Systems in Custom Sizes

Tacoma, Wash. (October 25th, 2016) – Milgard® Windows & Doors announced that their Moving Glass Wall Systems are now available to order in custom sizes for retrofit and replacement patio doors.

Milgard introduced Moving Glass Wall Systems in 2013 in three operating styles: Pocket, Bi-Fold and Stacking doors and with two frame options: all-aluminum and aluminum clad exterior with a solid wood interior. At that time, only standard sizes were available.

“We are excited to expand our offering to include custom sizes,” said Chad Martinez, product manager at Milgard. “As the demand for replacement patio door options increases from the recent indoor outdoor living trend, we are pleased that we can offer custom sizing for our all-aluminum Moving Glass Walls.”

Moving Glass Wall Systems operate smoothly and effortlessly with the push of a finger. Despite their large size, the doors can open and close easily due to the use of sealed stainless steel ball bearing rollers. This creates a luxurious patio door that is easy to use.

The all-aluminum frames are constructed of thermally broken panels and frames with a fully weather-stripped structural interlock system to protect your interior from the elements when fully closed.

Homeowners can choose the standard water barrier sill or a flush sill where ease of entry is more important than weather performance.
