Services & Resources

Scholarships

The SSA awards a small number of scholarships to student activists each year! These scholarships offset tuition and other education-related expenses for student activists who have demonstrated past success in activism and propose plans for promising future projects.

Grants

We make sure our students can hold amazing events and support their activism financially by offering monetary grants. We also offer travel grants to bring students to our Annual Conference every year.

Campus Organizers

We have a dedicated staff committed to building more active and awesome student leaders and groups. Email us questions, success stories, or for help at:

organizer@secularstudents.org

Tabling Supplies

Without effective advertising, groups cannot grow on their campuses. We make sure that all our groups can advertise and recruit on campus with free supplies such as pens, buttons, brochures, and other great swag!

Group Running Guide

Our Group Running Guide is fondly referred to by some of our leaders as their "Group Running Bible." It contains in-depth information on starting a group, running events, and much, much more. It is also available as a PDF online!

Speakers Bureau

We have over 140 speakers from across the secular movement who have agreed to speak for free or at a discounted price to our affiliate groups! We can also help students pay for travel and lodging for speakers they bring to their campus.

Programs

SSA Annual Conference

Every year, the Secular Student Alliance holds an Annual Conference for group leaders and student activists. SSA Con focuses on empowering students to exchange best practices and learn from each other. It also inspires students to live out their secular values, and connects them with the larger secular movement!

Secular Safe Zone

Being bullied, ostracized, or harassed by their peers is an issue many secular students face every day. The Secular Safe Zone program is designed to counteract this unfortunate reality.

The Secular Safe Zone trains and educates Allies who create safe spaces for secular students to question, criticize, and discuss issues important to them.

What We Do

Organize Secular Students

The SSA empowers students to build secular communities on their campuses. SSA groups host hundreds of events and activities every year, and play an enormous role in shaping student life!

Our groups provide a powerful way to normalize secular identities and advance secular values on campuses all over the country. We provide the tools our groups need to strengthen their communities and make meaningful, lasting change.

...but we're not just about groups!

The Secular Student Alliance strives to empower every secular student in their activism. Students without a campus group can still join the Secular Student Alliance. Individual students are eligible for grants, scholarships, conference discounts, and much more!

Amplify Secular Students

There are thousands upon thousands of brilliant, courageous, and curious students in America who base their values on making the current (and future) world a better place. We not only train our students, empower their activism, and amplify their voices, but also share their stories to recognize them for their hard work.

Connect Secular Students

Coming together with liked-minded people is the first step towards building a successful social movement. We connect students to each other, to other campus groups, and to the broader secular movement.

We encourage our affiliate groups to look beyond their campuses. Our Campus Organizers connect SSA groups with other students in their area, other SSA campus groups, and with off-campus community groups.
