Scrumptious Black Heritage Turkeys

I served and prepared two Black Heritage Turkeys this past Thanksgiving and have hosted Thanksgiving Dinner for the last 50 years! (Can't believe it either). These Turkeys were the BEST EVER..moist and delicious and I didn't even brine them.....

WHO KNEW?

I discovered Joyce Farms from eating their most amazing Chickens, but I am astonished at how good the beef is. These Grass Fed NY Strip Steaks are mouth watering good. So tender and delicious. I prefer these Steaks to those I can get fresh in the butcher shop. I think they taste better. Super convenient, they come frozen solid and take a day to thaw in the fridge. The perfect steak. Capons and Chickens

We have been seeking a proper chicken for years now, and have searched high and low, fresh and frozen, locally raised, etc. A chicken that actually tasted like chicken and with flavor. None has really been great. However, Joyce Farms has delivered such wonderful products that speaks to our "heritage", when food was simple and delicious. We served Capons instead of turkey for Thanksgiving and all our guests were delighted and loved the juicy flavor. Many of our guests had sworn off chicken and turkey due to its disappointing dryness and flavor were easy converts. Very exciting. We are sad that it is so difficult in America to get flavorful food and food that is supposed to taste as it should. We are elated that we have finally found Joyce Farms for our poultry and meat provider. We look forward discovering all their offerings. Read Less

So juicy and flavorful

The capons are absolutely delicious--juicy and flavorful. It makes a beautiful presentation on the table as well. (Well, I actually take it back into the kitchen to carve, but it sure is a beauty to show off to family and friends before carving.) While there's plenty of juice left in the bird, there are plenty of drippings to make lots of yummy gravy. Truly, if all you've ever tasted is a grocery store roast chicken, you do not know what you're missing. You must try this. Read Less

Amazing taste, incredible quality and very fair price

Everything we ordered at Joyce Farms' has been literally delicious. We tried almost all of their poultry (chicken, duck, pheasant, guinee hen, poussin, rabbit...) and all of them have been as tasty as we expected them to be. We are French and are used to different birds than what is, unfortunately, sold in the US usually (i.e. huge, dry and very bland chicken). You can definitely tell Joyce Farms raise their animals the right way, for the quality of the meat (and that of the bones) never lies.

Also, we love their chicken saussages and cordon-bleus, which are prepared with beautiful ingredients and taste wonderful.

The ordering process is very well managed and, even if we live far away (New Mexico), everything was completely frozen at delivery. Very professional. Read Less

Best turkey ever

My entire family was shocked at how good the turkey was. It was the topic of Thanksgiving dinner - which it never is!

We had given up finding such superb poultry in the US

As much as we love a great roasted bird or coq au vin, poultry had disappeared from our dinner table because the quality was always a disappointment. Then we found Joyce Farms Pintade Fermiere and Poulet Rouge; the taste, tenderness, texture, and juiciness are a revelation. Thank you for all of your exceptional products.

Best turkey ever

Our 2nd year purchasing a black heritage turkey. We're spoiled for life- it's the tastiest turkey ever. There's no going back to grocery store turkeys for us.

Poulet rouge

I longed for chicken flavor I grew up with in Europe. I have to say, your Poulet Rouge comes closer in flavor to any I've tried thus far in the States. I think I will order the larger chickens next time, since the breasts of the smaller ones tend to dry out during roasting. The naked thighs were delicious and moist.
