

A Clean Restroom = Repeat Business

Recent testing has shown that no-touch spray and vacuum systems are sixty times more effective than standard cleaning methods in cleaning restrooms and reducing bacteria. Another study showed that these no-touch cleaning systems can remove more than 99.9% of targeted microbes with plain water according to tests performed by a NELAP-accredited lab.

Biological films remaining on a floor only adds to harmful contamination of a facility and is detrimental to the indoor air quality. If you want to ensure a healthy environment for your employees, ensure repeat business from your customers, and enhance your business image then check out our high-tech cleaning systems.
