Like the freshwater spring from which this special area of Nantucket gets its name, historically reported to have never run dry, the spectacular estate at 10 Eat Fire Spring Road offers a similarly profound and beautiful legacy to the island for generations to come. Powered entirely by cutting edge solar technology this net zero home also utilizes geothermal innovation for heating and cooling sources, this luxurious "smart home" was crafted with the epitome of comfort and design in mind. Situated on over three level acres, and just across from Polpis Harbor, this contemporary six-bedroom home, pool house and oversized two-car garage with en suite studio offers easy-flowing, open-concept living, sundrenched rooms, and a seamless indoor/outdoor experience. State of the art amenities abound, including app-controlled; lighting, heating and cooling, pool controls, Sonos and energy consumption monitoring. Calming hues of natural wood, grey and white are soothing and easy on the eye, and repeated throughout, while an Oversize-sized salt-water pool and gracious blue stone patio balance and complete this private compound. On the second floor of each structure and from the easily accessible widow's walk, one can enjoy unspoiled, striking views of all three of the island's lighthouses, including the red-stripped Sankaty light in 'Sconset that meditatively flashes every seven seconds. Deeded access to Polpis Harbor caters to both boat-enthusiasts and beachgoers alike. Designed and drawn by the team Thornewill designs and constructed by Rosscorp this property is above and beyond your typical high-end estate, a truly sustainable paradise that leaves no footprint on this beautiful island.

First Floor: A spacious office is located just off the foyer, and beyond that, the master suite, with walk-in closet, recessed lighting, and a multitude of windows looking out onto the pool. The master bath is a study of aesthetic design, with oversized tub, Caesar stone countertops, double sink vanity, and floating toilet. An oversized walk-in shower for two completes the space. Crossing through the living area, one will continue into the open kitchen and dining area, where no detail was over-looked in terms of amenities. A true chef's kitchen, this space is equipped with a stacked double oven, induction cooktop, temperature controlled wine storage, double-refrigerator, double-freezer and dishwashers.

Second Floor: To one side of the landing is a gorgeous marble bath with glass-enclosed shower, flanked by Jack and Jill bedrooms, one with twin beds and a dormered ceiling, the other with a king-sized bed and cathedral ceiling. Another two bedrooms are located on the other end of this second floor hall, each with a generous walk-in closet, en suite bath with oversized, glass-enclosed shower and views out to the gorgeous Polpis Harbor.

Basement: A temperature-controlled walk in wine cellar offers the ultimate luxury to any oenophile, while a billiard table and full bar provide endless entertainment.

Other Struct: A kitchenette, refrigerator, ice maker and dishwasher offer pool-side dining convenience in the Pool House. Above the garage is a studio apartment with en suite bath and views out onto both the pool and Polpis Harbor.
