doxo Named to Everest Group's List of "Top 40 FinTech Trailblazers"

Consumer bill pay service doxo added to Everest Group's prestigious list of most innovative payments companies

SEATTLE, WA. Bill paying service leader doxo has been awarded a place on the prestigious list of Everest Group's most innovative payments companies, as one of the "Top 40 FinTech Trailblazers."

The list of "Top 40 FinTech Trailblazers" is released annually by Everest Group to honor FinTech companies changing the way transactions are being conducted, and which are disrupting the traditional payments landscape. For this year's winners, Everest Group sought those demonstrating cutting-edge technologies, new payment methods, and digital channel adoption. Most of all, it looked for companies that are actively transforming the ways in which transactions occur today, and which are enhancing customer experience through innovation and disruption.

doxo was included in the newest list of FinTech Trailblazers because of the way the bill pay company, with over 2 million consumer users, is changing the way people pay their bills, providing them with a simple, secure option to pay all bills from a single account. doxo is also disrupting the payments services industry for billers, providing billers with fast, free, and direct payments from doxo users with simple month-to-month agreements (no commitment required).

"We're delighted to be included in Everest Group's top 40 FinTech Trailblazers," comments doxo CEO and Co-Founder Steve Shivers. "Too many billers have been trapped for years in long-term contracts with the same outdated billing platforms, so we're honored to be recognized for our disruptive service in the bill pay space. doxo eliminates the long-term contracts and high integration costs that lock billers into outdated and overpriced bill pay solutions."

Fast, Free Direct Payments from doxo Users

Thousands of billers can be paid electronically on doxo's payment network. Billers that enroll in doxo's direct pay network get paid more quickly, access real-time data on customer transactions, and can add eBilling, autopay, and mobile payment to their bill pay experience with no added expense. doxo is compatible with existing billing systems (even if the biller is stuck in an existing agreement with their legacy payments provider), and is free for billers to connect with electronically. doxo's SaaS platform also provides complete online payments and eBilling capabilities for those billers who need bill pay, paperless and mobile payments for their business.

The advantages of joining doxo's provider network include: A better and simpler payment experience for the biller's customers; faster payment receipt than those made by mail (on average, 3 to 5 business days); reduced customer care incidents; and mobile payments for iOS and Android, without the hassles, exclusivity, minimums or long-term commitments of traditional vendor contracts.

Billers that join doxo are connecting to their customers, increasing mobile payments, boosting autopay enrollment, accessing vital real-time market data and more. Through doxo, large businesses like AT&T, Mountaineer Gas, National Grid, Puget Sound Energy, and Kansas City Light, as well as many other regional and local service providers in finance, utilities, healthcare, telecom, banking, insurance and other sectors are getting fast, direct payments.
