

The Utech Group and Illumyx Transform Into Two Specialized Change Management Teams

The organizational changes within The Utech Group and illumyx opens the doors for new possibilities and growth in 2018. Illumyx will work to acquire its first round of seed investment enabling the company to accelerate its 3-year growth plan. The Utech Group will remain a trusted strategic partner of illumyx, through its nationwide network of consulting partners.

Known for being experts in change management, The Utech Group is serving up a few changes to their own organization this year. As Utech moves into 2018, brother and sister, Stephen Utech and Melissa Borowicz, step up to take on new leadership roles within their organizations. Melissa will be heading up The Utech Group as CEO and Owner, while Stephen leads illumyx as CEO and Founder. Original founders of The Utech Group, Ken and Chris Utech, will remain in the business as owners and continue to offer their current services.

“Illumyx has been incubated within the Utech Group in its early stages of business development and growth. We decided that to grow illumyx as quickly as we wanted would require outside investment. It was a difficult decision, but making illumyx and Utech two separate companies allows us better concentration and focus on our continual growth,” Melissa says.
