Yusen Logistics to Exhibit at MRO Americas

Yusen Logistics (Americas) Inc., a leading third-party logistics provider, is exhibiting for the first time at MRO Americas, a premier event for commercial air transport maintenance, repair, and overhaul industry. This year's event is taking place at the Orange County Convention Center, April 10-12, in Orlando, FL.

Located in Booth 2585, representatives from Yusen Logistics will be available to share the company's MRO solutions for commercial and military aerospace customers. The solutions include engine repair and overhaul logistics; aircraft modification programs; inventory control and support; end-to-end visibility and live updates.

"We are very excited to participate in this year's event," said Neil Mitchell, Director, Aerospace Business Development, International Division, Yusen Logistics. "We're looking forward to networking with other professionals and companies in the aerospace arena."

In addition to MRO support, Yusen Logistics provides a wide range of aerospace supply chain solutions, including AOG (Aircraft on Ground) services; inbound to manufacturing logistics; aviation and aftermarket logistics; warehouse, order fulfillment and JIT delivery; and specialized transportation management, including oversized and project cargo.
