#RocklerPlywoodChallenge Winners Announced

Stunning designs using one sheet of plywood are top three winners

Medina, MN (June 21, 2018)

Rockler Woodworking and Hardware, in partnership with The Modern Maker Podcast, has just announced winners of its #RocklerPlywoodChallenge. Participants were asked to make something using one sheet of plywood, any type, and to then post their entry on Instagram using the hashtag #RocklerPlywoodChallenge. The top three winners were “Modern Coffee Table” by OSODIY, “Bentwood Chair” by Sami Chi and “Standup Paddleboard” by PC Makes.

The winning entry, “Modern Coffee Table” by OSODIY, displays amazing craftsmanship and artfully incorporates the end grain of the plywood.

Chris Salomone, Mike Montgomery of Modern Builds and Ben Uyeda of HomeMade Modern – all of whom are key Rockler content partners - judged the entries. Chris Salomone summed up the judges’ comments with, "I think I speak for Mike and Ben when I say we were absolutely floored by the quality and the quantity of participation that this challenge garnered. And when I think about the thought and execution that went into some of these projects, it blows my mind."

The 2nd Place winner of #RocklerPlywoodChallenge: “Bentwood Chair” by Sami_Chi

“It’s as if every participant challenged themselves to transform a basic building material into a work of art,” says Nathan Ensminger, marketing manager at Rockler. Ensminger adds, “Building something from a single sheet of plywood might sound simple, but the projects shared by the community were anything but basic.”

The 3rd place winner: "Standup Paddleboard" by PC_Makes
