

September 14th, 2018, RBP, LLC a Georgia based Corporation is pleased to announce today the launch of the updated PeterVekselman.com web and mobile site.

The updated <http://petervekselman.com> website introduces the personal real estate investing longevity and experience that Peter Vekselman, the Founder and Owner has established successfully over the past twenty-two years. The new brand statement for the site speaks for itself, "America's Real Estate Investor Expert!" The site also features Peter's number one passion, helping to coach and mentor others to become successful Real Estate Investors. In 2017 Peter further refined his coaching and mentoring program, creating his Partner-Driven Coaching National franchise program. Whereby Peter not only coaches and mentors individuals on how to become successful Real Estate Investor, he will also Partner on Real Estate transactions, where he will put up all of the money to buy a property, finance, and manage entirely both the renovation and listing of the property to get to a final sale. The Partnership will split 50/50 profits after the transaction has settled. Peter believes in the individual investors that are coached and mentored properly by him and his team. He has committed to invest in his Partners his capital, his credit and utilize his twenty plus years of his corporate infrastructure and business relationships with Brokers, Agents, General Contractors, Banks and Hard Money Lenders across the United States.

" I've known Peter Vekselman for a little over 5 years. He was my mentor when I got started into this business. With his guidance, I've been able to complete over 1,500 Real Estate deals. I attribute my success in this business to Peter so much so that I became his CEO as well as a coach within his program." - Julie Muse, Chief Executive Officer

<http://petervekselman.com> allows anyone to get to know Peter and join him in following his passion and pursuit of helping other individual Real Estate Investors pursue their dreams and opportunities of earning a good living or creating supplemental recurring annual revenue for themselves and their families. Through this objective we get to showcase a personal lifestyle evolution and follow the journeys of individuals who are achieving success!

"I love teaching my students how to become self-assured, confident, and successful investors able to achieve their goals and surpass the expectations of what they hope to accomplish by investing in Real Estate!" - Peter Vekselman, Founder, Owner

The launch of the new website helps to inspire and delve into the behind the scenes live content featuring real estate home investing with their partners across the country that are being supported everyday by Peter and his team!

"The new site will appeal to any American who either is currently an investor or is considering entering into the world of real estate investing. Every day we are bringing to life through video and social media just how we interact and are impacting lives!" - David Mariadiaga, Video Production & Social Media Marketing Manager

About Peter Vekselman

For over 22 years Peter Vekselman has been investing his own money and resources into single family homes across the US. He has done well over 3,700 Real Estate transactions and has coached other investors on how to follow his formula for Real Estate Investing success! In 2017 he launched his Partner-Driven Coaching Real Estate franchise, whereby he coaches and mentors you on how to use his money to make money by locating Real Estate in your area that Peter can Partner with You on 50/50. You can utilize his money, credit and company resources to ensure a higher rate of success!

Find out more about how you can Partner with America's Real Estate Investor Expert!

Contact: Peter Vekselman or Julie Hicks at info@PeterVekselman.com - (404)948 4340

PeterVekselman

Partner-DrivenCoaching