Raleigh, NC - MonarchFx, a business unit of Tompkins International, continues to grow. As we continue to open more distributed logistics facilities, we have added to our operations leadership team. The team oversees all facilities operation systems. The team determines all product handling and storage requirements through developing, implementing, enforcing, and evaluating policies and procedures. Some of these processes include receiving product, equipment utilization, inventory management, and order fulfillment.

Scott Lenhoff, West Coast Regional Director, builds, creates, and institutes state of the art facilities in order to achieve optimal productivity, accuracy, lowest costing possible, and the ability to handle millions of orders throughout a given year. He specializes in retail/wholesale, specialty store, and eCommerce fulfillment operations, additional skillsets from allocations, fulfillment, pick and pack processing, value added services, IT functionality, and more. Lenhoff's past responsibilities have included managing multi-state facilities covering two million square feet of automated environments that supported $500-$750M in revenue. Before joining MonarchFx Lenhoff worked as Director of Logistics at Kittrich Corporation, Director of Operations at Union Supply, and Regional Director of Operations at Rampage. Lenhoff holds a Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration from California State University Northridge.

MonarchFx is the coming together of world class supply chain and logistics companies with world class sellers of products, to form a reinvented unichannel logistics ecosystem that is new, smart, and innovative. "Scott's expertise in operations makes him the perfect addition to the MonarchFx operations team," stated Jim Tompkins, CEO, MonarchFx.
