

Corepoint Health Earns KLAS® Integration Engine Category Leader for 10th Consecutive Year

Corepoint Integration Engine™ continues to set the standard for interoperability solutions

January 31, 2019 — DALLAS — Corepoint Integration Engine is a 2019 Category Leader for Integration Engines in the 2019 Best in KLAS®: Software & Services report. This marks a full decade of Corepoint Health earning the coveted recognition from the health IT industry.

“We are deeply honored to be awarded #1 in KLAS for the 10th year in a row. We share this year’s award, as we have in the past, with our customers. Their willingness to push us to continuously improve, coupled with their unwavering enthusiasm and support, has enabled our team to exceed their expectations for over a decade,” said Corepoint Health CEO, Sean Cassidy. “In the years to come, we look forward to helping our customers confront and conquer an increasingly challenging interoperability and operational environment.”

Using feedback submitted from healthcare professionals, the 2019 Best in KLAS: Software & Services report ranks vendor solutions that make a large operational or clinical impact, and is often equated to the Consumer Reports of enterprise-level healthcare technology.

According to anonymous KLAS feedback:

“Corepoint Health has kept every promise they have made to us.” — Director, April 2018

“Corepoint Health is always talking about the next big thing. They were talking about FHIR before we knew what FHIR was. They are always very proactive in terms of integration.” — Director, April 2018

“Corepoint Health does everything well. They provide an excellent product that is easy to use. Sometimes we have to do really complex things with Corepoint Integration Engine, and the support Corepoint Health offers us is outstanding. We never have to be stuck with an issue.” — Analyst, February 2018
