

COMMITMENT TO HEALTH & WELLNESS

EARN OXBLUE NATIONAL RECOGNITION

Atlanta company singled out as one of the Nation's Best and Brightest in Wellness for 2018.

ATLANTA, FEBRUARY 27, 2019 – OxBlue receives National Association for Business Resources' National Best and Brightest in Wellness award for 2018 for its commitment to employee wellbeing and worksite health.

Best and Brightest in Wellness recognizes excellence in health awareness and highlights employers that promote a culture of physical and mental wellbeing. These organizations must also implement and evaluate the wellness efforts to make their business and community a healthier place to live.

OxBlue's dedication to employee vitality can be witnessed with weekly instructor-led yoga classes, self-taught HIIT workouts, healthy snacking options, and yearly biggest loser challenges. Employees also have the opportunity to receive on-site flu shots and biometric (BMI) screenings for themselves and their families. By participating, employees receive incentives for maintaining a healthy lifestyle.

The 2018 winners are assessed by SynBella, the nation's leading wellness firm. Companies answer a survey that measures qualitative and quantitative data and are scored on a point system based upon benchmarks for wellness program effectiveness. The judging areas include outcomes, analysis, tracking, participation and incentives, benefits and programs, leadership, employee input, culture, and environment.

"We're honored to be recognized for our commitment to our employees' wellbeing," says Chandler McCormack, OxBlue CEO.
