MIND-BODY CONNECTION

POWELL BROWN | Riding for Skyland Trail

We are raising awareness, helping to erase the stigma associated with mental illness and raising money for education, research, and treatment of these serious disorders which affect so many of our friends, family, and colleagues. Suicide is the 2nd leading cause of death in youth ages 10 to 24. I'm riding to change that.

GEORGE POLLOCK | Riding for FSH Society

FSH muscular dystrophy affects me, along with nearly one million others around the world. There may come a time when I cannot pedal a bicycle. Until then, I will continue to ride, and I encourage everyone to enjoy their passions and be ambassadors for our efforts to find a cure.

Part of healing is an inside job. There is no doubt that the link between mental and physical health is real and critical to whole care.

For that reason, Powell Brown & George Pollock are joining forces to support and raise awareness for two organizations dedicated to healing physical and mental illness with a focus on the mind-body connection.

Donate today to support Team FSHD Skyland Trail, Powell, and George.
