Sensata Technologies Signs Distribution Agreement with Proponent for Global Supply of Aerospace Aftermarket Components

Brea, California-

Global aerospace and defense supplier, Sensata Technologies, has finalized a multi-year distribution agreement with Proponent, the world's largest independent aerospace distributor. Under the agreement, Proponent will become the exclusive 3rd party global distributor to selected Sensata customers for the supply of commercial aftermarket products sold under the Kavlico brand. Proponent and Sensata Technologies have shared objectives with a strategy based upon the principles of a simplified buyer interface, excellence in Customer Service and the global availability of high quality components to support our aerospace partners.

Sensata Technologies manufactures, tests, repairs, overhauls, and offers exchanges on Kavlico brand LVDTs, RVDTs, and Force Transducers, all through its facilities in Thousand Oaks, California & Tijuana, MX.
