Alexander Wolf and Son Receives the New York Construction Legacy Award

Recognized for Over 114 Years of Outstanding Work and Leadership

New York, New York – June 17, 2019 – Alexander Wolf and Son, one of the most well-respected general contractors and construction managers in New York, has been selected to receive The New York Construction Legacy Award.

The New York Construction awards recognize construction, design (architecture & engineering) and development industry leaders. The Awards were presented on June 12th by Anchin, Block & Anchin, in cooperation with the New York Building Congress (NYBC), the American Council of Engineering Companies of NY (ACEC New York), the American Institute of Architects - New York Chapter (AIA New York), the Subcontractors Trade Association (STA) and Willis Towers Watson.

Alexander Wolf and Son Principal Daniel Bernstein stated, “We are one of the oldest continuously owned and privately held builders in New York City. From our humble roots in 1905 on the Lower East Side to our current location in midtown Manhattan, we have grown to become a leader in the New York renovation market and appreciate this recognition.”

AW&S Principal Peter Bernstein added, “We are proud and honored to receive this award. It validates what we believe to be unique about AW&S; longevity, personal relationships and a commitment to creative problem solving”.

“It is such an honor to recognize and celebrate the companies that have achieved great success in the A/E/C industries,” said Phillip Ross, Partner and Leader of the Architecture, Engineering and Construction Industry Groups at Anchin, Block & Anchin. “Congratulations to Alexander Wolf & Son and the other esteemed honorees for their hard work and dedication to New York City and for making such a difference in these industries.”

About Alexander Wolf and Son

Alexander Wolf & Son is a fourth-generation family business founded in 1905. The company's founder, Alexander Wolf, a native New Yorker, was later joined by his son Charles. In the 1970s, the firm's leadership included grandsons Daniel Bernstein and Richard Wolf. In 2006, Peter Bernstein joined AW&S as a principal and together with his father Daniel has been at the helm of the company since 2013.

AW&S works with architects, engineers, and design professionals from pre-construction through project completion. The firm's high standard of excellence and commitment to owner involvement on all projects has resulted in an impressive record of creative problem solving, project success, and repeat business from the firm's institutional, corporate and not-for-profit clients.
