JOIN THE INTEGRATIVE HEALTH & WELLNESS CAUCUS

CONGRESS FOCUSES ON INTEGRATIVE HEALTH & WELLNESS:
Bipartisan Effort Cites Prevention and Healthcare Delivery Change
Join Rep. Judy Chu (D-CA), and Rep. Jackie Walorski (R-IN) in the new Integrative Health and Wellness Caucus, a bipartisan Congressional effort. In the midst of the largest American health crisis in recent history, this Caucus will provide legislators and other policy and regulatory officials the opportunity to understand how shifting the focus in healthcare to prevention, health creation and health promotion can result in considerable cost savings while improving health outcomes for all Americans.

The Integrative Health and Wellness (IHW) Caucus will serve as a non-partisan educational forum for legislators to:

- Receive the latest information from experts on best practices and new research
- Identify legislative and administrative opportunities across federally funded health programs to bring solutions to the American people.

Members of Congress who would like to join the Caucus should contact Representative Chu’s office directly at 202-225-5464, or Ellen.hamilton@mail.house.gov. For more information on the IHW Caucus, contact AANP’s Government Affairs representative, Kallie Guimond, at kguimondaanp@gmail.com.
