

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

MEDIA CONTACT:

Karen Haggerty

Karen@Pinpointcom.net

Delaney's Z-Wave Smart Lock & Camera Hub Leads the Market with New Advanced App Features and Matte Black Finish

Easy-to-Use Smartlock Solution Offers Ultimate Convenience & Peace of Mind

ATLANTA (June 17, 2019) Homeowners seeking security, convenience and the latest smart home technology will discover that the attractive, easy-to-use Z-Wave Touchscreen Smartlock and Camera Hub from Delaney Hardware exceeds their expectations. Now available online and in select retail stores, this innovative smart home pairing shines in the Smartlock market with superior attributes, including: its sleek design; additional video camera functioning Z-Wave hub; the user-friendly app with the capability to add, edit or delete codes for up to 20 users; dormant Smartlock sleep mode to extend battery life; and the availability of Smartlock in four finishes, including stylish new matte black.

The Z-Wave (ZW300) Touchscreen Smartlock, which installs easily with a simple screwdriver, combines an elegant, sleek design with a bright back-lit LED touchscreen. This high-security lock solution provides peace of mind for all levels of technology users by offering three methods of entry (code, smart home app or key). The super sleek design is available in four finishes – new matte black, oil-rubbed bronze, satin nickel and polished chrome. The new matte black finish is on-trend, as interior designers harmonize it with a variety of styles, from traditional to modern and farmhouse.

“The new Delaney Z-Wave Touchscreen Smartlock offers more than just convenient access to a house,” explains Kathryn Towns, vice president of marketing for Delaney Hardware. “It’s an attractive device that is easy to operate, no matter how tech savvy the user may be. It makes life easier for homeowners – there’s no need to carry a key, so it’s perfect for busy families coming and going. This is also perfect for vacation rental property owners. They can open the door using the touchscreen, the app or a key.”

The Delaney Z-Wave Camera Bridge Hub acts as a bridge or gateway between a Smart Home App and Smart Home devices while also providing the additional functionality of video recording, capturing pictures as well as providing two-way audio capability. While Delaney’s Touchscreen Smartlock can operate with any Z-Wave Plus hub on the market, utilizing Delaney’s Z-Wave Camera Hub offers true compatibility and allows usage of the full Delaney SmartHome App.

The Delaney SmartHome app offers unique functionality. Homeowners and resident managers can conveniently manage entry to their house from anywhere through the app, and they can assign a code to each user and include a start date and expiration date. This capability is ideal for a variety of situations, including: granting entrance to visiting friends and family; supervising children; overseeing aging adults who require assistance; providing admission to short-term renters; and permitting access for cleaning crews, contractors, and others. This system is also compatible with Amazon Alexa and Google Home.

“Our Smartlock solution can serve as the center of a smart home ecosystem by connecting to any of the thousands of Z-Wave Plus devices on the market,” says Libby Zappala, president of Delaney Hardware. “We chose to integrate Z-Wave technology into our products, since it offers the highest level of encryption and security by running on a higher frequency. Users also can access their Delaney Smartlock from anywhere in the world, providing the ultimate in control and security.”

The Delaney Z-Wave Touchscreen Smartlock (ZW300) measures 2-5/8" wide and 5-1/4" tall and ranges in price from $190 to $225. It includes features such as:

- 3 Entry Methods: conventional key, touchscreen, and smartphone app
- Back-lit touchscreen for visibility at any hour
- Up to 30 user codes and 1 master code
- Temporary access codes for one-time access
- Auto-lock feature after set idle time
- Auto-suspend after 5 incorrect code entries
- Power-efficient design to extend battery life
- Uses 4 AA 1.5V Alkaline batteries (batteries not included)
- Low battery alarm
- No hard wiring needed
- Installs easily with screwdriver
- 1-Year Electronics Warranty
- Z-Wave Plus Certified

The Delaney Z-Wave Camera Bridge Hub (ZW100) can connect up to eight users simultaneously to video stream, and it can mount to a wall, ceiling or table. The camera records video during day or night hours, and it includes a high-power infra-red LED. The Camera Hub measures 2" wide by 4-3/4" tall, and it can be purchased alone or paired with the Delaney Smartlock in a kit that ranges from $460 to $480. The camera hub features:

- Acts as a bridge or gateway between a smart home app and smart home devices
- 2 Mega-Pixel (full HD) for up to 1920x1080 at 30fps
- Day or night video. Includes high-power infra-red LED
- Video streaming to PC, Micro-SD Card, or Mobile
- Cloud storage to Dropbox
- Schedule specific dates and times to record
- Motion and sound detection - push notifications to iOS & Android
- Z-Wave Plus Certified for maximum compatibility
- Two-way audio with built-in speaker
- 360° Adjustable Stand to mount on the wall or ceiling, or sit it on a desk or shelf
- Connects up to 8 users simultaneously to video stream
- 10-foot Power Cord
- Works with Amazon Alexa and Google Home

The Delaney Z-Wave Smartlock and Z-Wave Camera Bridge Hub can be purchased separately or in a combo pack at a variety of lumberyards and retailers nationwide, as well as on Build.com, Wayfair.com, Houzz.com and Amazon.com.

###

About Delaney Hardware

Delaney Hardware specializes in providing high-quality door hardware for residential homes, multi-family buildings, and commercial projects for over 25 years. With collections that combine superior finishes and comprehensive mechanics, Delaney's commitment to value, quality, and exceptional service distinguishes it from the rest of the industry. The company's consistent delivery times, quality products, knowledgeable support experts, and experienced keying technicians allow it to provide unparalleled door hardware service to suppliers for builders, installers and homeowners. Delaney Hardware's full product line is available throughout the U.S. and includes door hardware, barn door hardware, bath accessories, and trim hardware. Experience the wide array of Delaney products in the online catalog.