Elevate Jet Acquires Embraer Regional Jet, ERJ N830MR, Adds to Growing Fleet

Bedford, MA – October 8, 2019. Elevate Jet announces the acquisition of a 30-passenger Embraer Regional Jet (ERJ). The aircraft represents the next step forward in a comprehensive acquisition strategy to grow the Elevate Jet fleet and expand a suite of progressive services offered to aircraft owners and flyers.

Elevate Jet's newest ERJ, registered with tail number N830MR, is a versatile turbojet aircraft designed for ultimate flying comfort, featuring four hours of flying time, state-of-the-art avionics, large windows, generous luggage capacity, and executive leather-upholstered seats.

“For a regional aircraft, this ERJ is bright, spacious and super comfortable,” said Scott LaForge, president of Elevate Jet, “The interior has been completely customized by Embraer. The plane is designed for 37 seats, and this ERJ has a 30-passenger executive interior, so it has lots of legroom and excellent seat pitch. The seats are so new, they're still wrapped in plastic.”

Elevate Jet provides highly customized air charter and on-demand VIP flight solutions, utilizing a wide selection of on fleet and off fleet aircraft, including executive jets and regional jets. Serving flyers and aircraft owners, the company also offers a range of aircraft management, advisory, and consultancy services.

“We have flight solutions for all types of air travel, for large and small groups, short jumps and long hauls,” LaForge said, “We are excited to add this ERJ to our fleet. It is the ideal air transportation solution for groups too large for a typical large cabin executive jet, and too savvy to incur the expense of a Boeing 737.”
