CLOUD ADOPTION

Enterprises often fail to move beyond the POC stage of cloud adoption. This happens primarily due to lack of experience and expertise in EUC cloud implementations in either the internal IT teams or the Managed Service Partner (MSP). This manifests itself in an inability to properly identify and implement different use cases, inability to integrate with applications and peripherals and an inability to deliver a smooth, trouble free transition experience to end users, leading to resistance to adoption.

Anunta's "VDI/DaaS Adoption Package" helps enterprises, who have taken the first steps towards implementing VDI/DaaS, define a full adoption plan and then take complete ownership of the EUC transformation from discovery and migration to complete stabilization of the environment before handing it over as a steady state operations to the customer's IT team/existing MSP in a time bound manner.
