Private Jet Services Group Acquires The Flight Exchange and Appoints Aviation Entrepreneur Chris Early to its Executive Team.

Seabrook, NH - November 19, 2019. Private Jet Services Group has acquired The Flight Exchange (TFX), a cutting-edge technology platform that improves the private flight scheduling experience. In connection with the acquisition, Chris Early, TFX's Founder, has joined the Executive Team of PJS.

"We are thrilled to have Chris join our leadership team. Our clients are at the heart of everything we do. The addition of Chris's experience and professionalism furthers our mission of delivering exquisite transportation for our customers," said PJS Chief Executive Officer, Greg Raiff.

"Acquiring TFX is the next step in providing our customers with the industry's most advanced and flexible private flight experience. TFX has developed proprietary technology that provides real-time insight into demand and aircraft availability. We are excited about integrating the TFX capabilities into our customer experience. This innovative platform will automate previously manual processes, enabling our service team to spend more time listening to our clients and delivering the human touch that differentiates PJS."

Chris Early has served private fliers in both the Corporate Enterprise and Luxury Leisure market segments for more than 15 years. In his new role with PJS, Chris is charged with mentoring and growing the Western Region team, thereby expanding the company's local presence in these significant markets.

"I am very excited to have the opportunity to offer my clientele the unsurpassed PJS experience of personalized, intelligent, flexible and worry-free air travel," said Early. "After fifteen years in the private aviation space, it is clear to me that PJS is not only the right fit for me, its consultative approach and superior suite of services are precisely what air travelers need and deserve."

Chris brings to PJS his entrepreneurial spirit and multifaceted aviation knowledge. Before joining PJS, Chris built two of his own aviation firms after working for some of the largest fractional, jet card, and charter organizations in the private aviation industry. In 2018, Chris founded The Flight Exchange (TFX), the world's premiere private flight membership platform which is transforming the private aviation industry. Prior to TFX, Early founded Propel, a technology services company focused on private aviation and luxury lifestyle. Chris has also held roles as President of Bird Dog Jet and Vice President of Sales for Sentient Jet.
