Pfluger Announces New Principals/Shareholders

Austin, Texas, April 23, 2020 -- As Pfluger prepares for our next generation of leadership, we are excited to announce seven new Principals and Shareholders. These individuals have demonstrated their commitment to Pfluger and representing our core values.

HEATHER BLAZI

Heather has been with Pfluger for five years. As the Director of Marketing, she has been instrumental in the firm's growth and recognition.

FRANCES BROOKS, AIA

Frances joined Pfluger five years ago with experience as a contractor and owner. Her unique perspective and passion for promoting teamwork make her an effective Project Manager.

TERRY HOYLE, AIA, NCARB, LEED AP

Terry recently opened our Dallas office and brings over 30 years of experience and passion for educational architecture. He is committed to building strong, lasting relationships with our clients.

MICHAEL MARTINEZ, AIA

Michael brings over 30 years of industry experience. He is an effective communicator and is known for building teams that produce quality projects that serve the unique needs of each client.

TONY PLASCENCIA, AIA

Tony has been with Pfluger for 12 years. As Project Designer, his inspiring designs and collaborative nature have produced award-winning projects for many of our clients.

ANDREW PEREZ, AIA, LEED AP

Andrew has been with Pfluger for 14 years and continually strives to learn and improve his craft. His role as Project Manager supports his ability to envision possibilities and manage a successful team.

JACQUELINE WARNER

Jacqueline has been with Pfluger for seven years. As Director of Technology, her strength for strategic planning can be combined with her passion for programs and processes.
