

FOR THE HEALTH:

A CONVERSATION ON RACE AND FOOD ALLERGY

is a virtual gathering of notable black voices with various backgrounds in food allergy to promote health equity and share resources to reduce racial disparities in food allergy. Topics include the following:

- o The impacts of Social Determinants of Health (SDoH) as it relates to food allergy
- o Community resources
- o Actionable ways that allies and industry can support organizations committed to a more inclusive environment.

Friday, June 19, 2020

11:00 am EST/10:00 pm CST

WEBINAR hosted by Food Equality Initiative and Alerje

Hosted by Food Equality Initiative

FOR THE HEALTH
A Conversation on Race and Food Allergy

Sponsored by

ThermoFisher (ā'l'ər-jē)
SCIENTIFIC
Spokin

© 2020 FOOD EQUALITY INITIATIVE | ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

REGISTER

THE MODERATORS

LINSEY DAVIS
abc news correspondent

KAREN PALMER
Certified Professional Coach and Operations Consultant

THE PRESENTERS

(ā'l'ər-jē)
JAVIER EVELYN

Food Equality
INITIATIVE
Access. Education. Advocacy.
EMILY BROWN

ThermoFisher
SCIENTIFIC
DR. LAKIEA WRIGHT

PARTAKE
DENISE WOODARD

THOMAS & DINA SILVERA